As a youth ambassador, I feel passionately about many important topics. One that stands out to me is the issue of climate change and the urgent need to take action to protect our planet. I believe that we, as young people, have a responsibility to speak up and advocate for change.

Here is a poem that express my thoughts and feelings on this critical issue:

The world is changing, that much is clear
The signs are all around us, loud and clear
Our oceans are rising, our forests are burning
The planet is in peril, and it's time for us to start learning

As a youth ambassador, I've seen firsthand
The impact of climate change on our land
From droughts and floods to extreme weather events
It's clear that we must take action, before it's too late to prevent

We need to reduce our carbon footprint
And find ways to live more sustainably, bit by bit
From using renewable energy to driving less
Every action we take can make a difference, no less

So let's come together, young and old
And work towards a future that's bold
A world that's healthy, vibrant, and green
Where all can thrive, and hope can be seen

Together we can make a difference
And create a world that's filled with resilience
Let's act now, before it's too late
For the future of our planet, let's not wait
